Kaplan, Rapee ousted from Spingold action

All but one of the top eight seeds in the Spingold Knockout Teams advanced to the round of 16 today, although there were some close calls.

The top-seeded team led by Nick Nickell trampled the Cameron Doner squad, 186-37; #2 Steve Robinson and company walloped the Steve Price squad, 154-99, and #3 Jimmy Cayne blasted Marshall Miles' squad, 145-46.

The giant-killing #4 seed, led by David Klein, had the easiest time of all. The team that knocked off the star-studded Richard Schwartz squad on Tuesday was leading the Janet Colchamiro foursome 159-72 after three quarters when the Colchamiro group withdrew.

The highest seed to fall on Wednesday was the squad led by Edgar Kaplan. They fell to Glenn Eisenstein, Richard DeMartino, John Stiefel, Martin Fleisher, John Rengstorff and Chris Willenken.

The powerful Rita Shugart team -- Zia, Michael Rosenberg, Andy Robson, Tony Forrester and Geir Helgemo -- struggled most of the day with Joe Jabon, Jim Aitken, Harry Steiner, Henry Lortz, Wayne Ohlrich and Haskell Fuller before prevailing, 109-91. The Shugart sextet led by only 6 IMPs going into the final 16 boards.

The biggest comeback of the day belonged to the team captained by Mark Gordon. The Gordon squad lost the first quarter to the team led by Allan Siebert, 42-6, and trailed by 29 entering the final quarter. Gordon and company won the fourth quarter, 57-15, to emerge with a 139-126 victory.

In another close match, the Bill Pollack squad knocked off Joey Silver's team, 113-108.

In another upset, the #13 seed, captained by George Rapee, went down to the squad led by Mike Moss, 170-128.

Ross sextet ekes out Senior Swiss victory

The team captained by Harry Ross of Des Moines IA took advantage of a hefty carryover to win the Senior Swiss Teams by a fraction of a Victory Point.

The winners are Ross, John and Helen Gustafson, Des Moines; Jerry Gaer, Scottsdale AZ; Marilyn Hemenway and Mike Albert, Omaha NE.

They scored 118.94 VPs to 118.48 for Steve Lawrence, Athens TX; Bob Luebke, Walnut Creek CA; Ed Groner, Duncan OK, and Richard Holmes, Wichita KS.

Going into the final round, Ross and company were in the lead with 104.9 VPs. The Lawrence team was second with 101.5. Ross won by 10 IMPs, giving them 14 VPs. Lawrence did better, winning by 17 IMPs, but it was not enough. They needed to win by 20 or more IMPs to take the championship.

Ross benefited from a carryover from the first two qualifying sessions of 13.94 VPs. The Lawrence squad's carryover was 8.48.

Four teams left in Women's KO

Teams captained by Jo Morse, Kathie Wei-Sender, Rozanne Pollack and Jill Meyers entered the semifinals of the Women's Knockout Teams today.

The matchups:

#1 Morse, Karen McCallum, Hjordis Eythorsdottir, Rose Johnson, Phyllis Quinn and Lynn Baker versus #4 Meyers, Randi Montin, Tobi Deutsch, Mildred Breed, Renee Mancuso and Shawn Quinn.

#2 Wei-Sender, Juanita Chambers, Lynn Deas, Beth Palmer and Stasha Cohen versus #3 Pollack, Connie Goldberg, Lisa Berkowitz, Marinesa Letizia, Carol Sanders and Dorothy Truscott.

In Wednesday's play:

The Morse squad knocked off the #1-seeded team led by Lynne Schaefer, 135-89. Schaefer had defeated

11,200 tables? It's possible

We had another big day yesterday, bringing the total table count to 7338.5 after six days. It now appears that 11,000 is just about a sure thing, and 11,200 is certainly possible.

Yesterday's total was strongly bolstered by the 114 tables that played in the morning. Two different knockout events were taking place.

Energetic caddy gives thanks for new heart

At the age of 18, as Tracy Walker struggled to get by on her own with a 2-year-old son, her heart literally turned against her. She didn't know it at first, but the symptoms of hereditary heart disease were becoming manifest.

She had no energy. Her weight fell to 80 pounds. She developed hepatitis and a host of other maladies. "My heart had poisoned my liver," recalls Walker, an Albuquerque resident working as a caddy at the Summer NABC.

After a couple of years of treatment, it was determined that a heart transplant was her only chance.

She waited patiently, and even passed up her first chance at a compatible heart because another patient at Presbyterian Hospital was much sicker than she. Walker still stays in touch with that person.

On June 2, 1987, Walker received the heart of a 23-year-old man who had died in a motorcycle accident. She needed a man's heart, she says, because her defective heart had become enlarged and had expanded her chest cavity.

Today, the 32-year-old woman is healthy, happy and eternally thankful to have had another chance at life.

"I give thanks three or four times a day," she says.

Jackie Matthews, the tournament director in charge of caddies at NABCs, has been impressed with Walker, who caddied at the World Bridge Championships in Albuquerque in 1994.

"She's terrific," Matthews said of Walker, "and she flies. She doesn't walk anywhere."

Friends gather for memorial service for Ron Andersen

Friends of Ron Andersen gathered yesterday at the Hyatt to pay tribute to a man who touched their lives in many ways. Ron was a man of many talents, but most important, he was a man with a heart.

Ron's brother Ken wasn't able to be present, but Patty Magnus read a message from Ken. Ken told how Ron took care of both of his families -- his blood family and his bridge family. Ken referred to the family as the Hill Gang.

Ron and Ken were very close, and Ron was always there for the Hill Gang. It was clear from Ken's message that the Hill Gang followed Ron's bridge experiences very closely and were very proud of his accomplishments. Ken also said that Ron really had TWO brothers -- himself and Paul Soloway.

Jo Anne Casen told how Ron came to the aid of her family when her brother was killed in a freak fire. Her brother died away from home, and the arrangements were very complicated. Ron volunteered to make airport runs, handle incidental details and help in any way he could. He was scheduled to play in a Mexico regional that week, but he canceled his dates and stayed with the family throughout the week of shiva (mourning period).

Roberta Epstein told how surprised she was the first time Ron was a guest in her home. "I had to go to work, and Ron stayed at the house. When I came home from work, a complete dinner awaited me, prepared by Ron."

Letters and postcards are what made an everlasting impression on Tom Sanders. "I received a 10-page letter from Ron back in 1982 just before we were going to play as partners for the first time. He always wrote long letters. He told me that he had been involved in many bridge incidents, but that he wouldn't do anything that would embarrass me, a member of the Board of Directors. Wasn't that something? Just about anything Ron ever did I've done at one time or another.

"Ron always remembered my family every time he went somewhere. We received postcards from him from all over the world -- Beijing, Rhodes, Killarney, everywhere. We all were waiting for the postcard from Italy last month . . . but it never came."

Soloway, Ron's very close friend, offered upbeat recollections of his life and times with Ron.

"I especially remember the year that Barry Crane was going for the McKenney again, and he was getting strong opposition from Mel Skolnik. The race went right down to the wire, so much so that club games almost looked like national championships. We even arranged teams to play against Barry so that he'd be less likely to win while others of us played with Skolnik, trying to pull him through. Andersen and the rest of us did our job, and Skolnik was the winner."

Soloway was tremendously impressed by his friend's incredible performance last year. "Ron wanted to win one more Barry Crane Top 500, and as usual he went all out. He still did his vugraph work at the Nationals and at the world championships. But despite the time he lost doing things, and despite the fact that he was fighting all kinds of physical ailments, he won. What a fighter!

"And he was an entertainer as well. Remember those Hollywood Squares games he used to emcee? I remember one time when he was really ill -- sweat was pouring from every pore of his body, and he was very weak. But as usual, the show must go on. I don't believe anybody in the audience had even the slightest inkling that Ron was very sick."

Carol Sanders remarked on Ron's exceptionally good taste in women. She also suggested that the Hog could continue to do the Spingold predictions from Hog Heaven through an Earth intermediary.

Henry Francis told what it was like when Ron became deathly ill in Montecatini, Italy, where Ron was the chief commentator for the European team championships.

"When I went up to say hello to Ron when I arrived, Ron at first didn't recognize me. During the next vugraph session, Ron sat at the commentators' table -- but he never uttered one word throughout the 15 deals.

"Bill Pencharz and I tried to convince Ron to see a doctor or go to a hospital. But Ron wouldn't hear of it. 'They're counting on me here. I came over here to do a job and I'm going to do it.' Pencharz took it upon himself to have Ron moved to the hospital where he eventually went into the coma from which he did not recover."

Francis offered the eulogy, pointing out all the various accomplishments Ron achieved. He also told of the friendship that developed between them over the years.

Mark Lair closed the service by reciting the 23rd Psalm, Ron's favorite.

Deep finesse

Zia is well known for his flamboyance at the table, and the following deal from the Welcome to Albuquerque Knockout Teams, Bracket 1, won't hurt his reputation. Zia was playing with Michael Rosenberg.

West led the ♦Q, ducked all around. The ♦5 followed, and Zia ruffed. Zia then played a club to dummy's king and got off dummy with a spade. East hopped up with the ace and played a third round of diamonds.

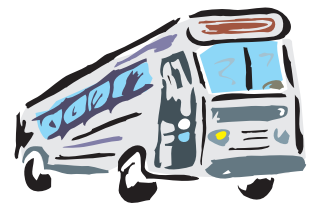

Zia ruffed with the ♥10 and West erred by discarding a spade -- a club discard would have defeated the contract -- and Zia took full advantage.

He considered playing two more rounds of clubs, discarding a spade from dummy, then cashing the ♠K and taking a spade ruff, but that was not likely to succeed. Ruffing his third spade with the ♥Q would certainly doom the contract if East overruffed with the ♥A and played a fourth round of diamonds, and even if Zia guessed to ruff low, East could still defeat the contract with another round of diamonds. That would force Zia to ruff high again and the ♥9 8 5 in West's hand would be good for a trick.

Zia's solution was as elegant as it was simple. He cashed the top two clubs, pitching a spade from dummy, and followed with the ♥4, riding it to East's bare ace.

East got out with a fourth round of diamonds, but Zia again ruffed high, cashed the ♠K and ruffed a spade with dummy's ♥7. At trick 12, he had the ♥Q and ♦K in dummy and the ♥K 6 in his hand.

Had West discarded a club instead of a spade on the third round of diamonds, Zia would have ended a trick short. West could ruff the third round of clubs, and although Zia could overruff in dummy, he would be left with a losing spade.

Restaurant shuttle

Checker Shuttle staff have found that most bridge players aren't making plans for dinner just prior to the afternoon session, so beginning tomorrow (Wednesday) players will need to call Checker Shuttle at 765-1234 to make arrangements for shuttle service to restaurants. Shuttles also routinely run through the downtown area stopping at hotels. If you see one, hail them down and they will be glad to take you to your dining destination.

And don't forget, Checker can also provide shuttle service to Sandia and Santa Fe. Ask Checker Shuttle representatives for times and prices.

Information

If you have a question about the Albuquerque and/or local events, information is available at 768-4595. For tournament questions, phone 766-6706.

Thanks, Jody

Many of the articles you have seen in these Daily Bulletins this week were prepared in advance by Jody Latham, a member of the staff of the ACBL Bridge Bulletin.

You can get good hands on crumpled napkins

By Barnet Shenkin

As I reached for my Heineken I spotted the usual crumpled napkin beside Rhoda Habert with the usual letters and x's all with little circles around them. "An interesting hand?" I asked, and she told me the story.

West led the ♦Q and Rhoda won the ace to play a heart. West won and continued hearts. She won the king, discarding a diamond, and passed the ♣10 to West's jack. West played a third heart which Rhoda ruffed. She now laid down the ♠A, noting the fall of the 10. It looked as if lefty was 1-3-7-2, so she laid down the ♣A, dropping the king. A high diamond pitching a club was followed by two more clubs, pitching dummy's last heart -- and East had no counter. She had to play a heart allowing dummy to ruff, and then she would take the trump finesse or play a spade which would make declarer's hand high. The key play was discarding her diamond on the ♥K. Very well played!

I HEARD ZIA'S voice booming behind me. I turned round to see him holding his usual large brandy. "Barnet, did you see that five diamond contract?" he asked. I had been passing his table earlier, and immediately after his customary psychic first-in-hand opener which resulted in minus 650 he produced the following defense:

Zia led the ♠5 to Michael Rosenberg's ace. Michael switched to a club and Zia won to play a second spade.

Declarer ruffed, crossed to a trump and passed the ♥Q which Zia ducked. When declarer repeated the finesse, Zia won, put Michael in with a club and scored a ruff for down three -- 800 -- which is Zia's third favorite defensive number after 1400 and 1100. 1700s are too infrequent, he says.

I SHOWED MY FRIEND Eddie Kantar a very interesting hand from my first Spingold match.

West led the ♥10 to the king and ace. I took the line for a first-round match by leading the ♦K. Luckily for me West took his ace and I was home. If West ducks I would have to ruff a heart and would likely go down two. If I ruff a heart and lead a diamond, West would have to underlead to beat the hand. East of course would be able to give suit preference in both hearts and trumps, so his partner should get it right.

Eddie of course gave the right answer in two seconds. If the defense doesn't switch immediately to clubs and continue clubs after they win the ♦A, they can't beat the hand. Declarer would simply ruff one heart and play diamonds.

Our teammates led the ♥K against the same contract. Declarer won, ruffed a heart and led a spade. Now John Mohan rose with the king. In the same position he played a trump which was not good enough. He quickly realized he had to shift to clubs to beat the hand. When West does not give a high spade under the king, he knows he can't overruff the 7-spot.

They were busy

The other night, a tournament director working the Spingold Knockout Teams heard some players calling for caddies to move their boards.

The director noticed that the calls weren't being answered, and he looked over at a table of youngsters who apparently weren't doing anything.

"Don't you think one of you should answer these caddy calls?" the director said.

With that, the youngsters -- Gavin Wolpert, Josh Heller, Erin Anderson and Charles Halasi -- held up their convention cards.

They didn't answer caddy calls -- they were playing.

Grosvenor Coup

Do you remember what a Grosvenor Coup is? When an opponent makes a play that gives you your contract, but you don't believe him so you go down anyway, you have been the victim of a Grosvenor Coup. Alan Truscott, bridge newsman supreme for the New York Times, dropped by to tell us of his victimization. It came during a Spingold match.

West started with the ♦K and switched to the ♠K. Next came the ♦A, and partner completed a low-high, which in their methods said, "Come on. I like this suit." Well, West paused for a considerable time before playing . . . the ♠A! He did NOT lead a diamond for a possible ruff by partner.

Truscott ruffed this, of course, and now he could make his contract by taking a trump finesse through East.

But of course he did NOT take the finesse. Why didn't West continue with a third diamond after getting the positive signal from partner? Why, of course! West must have the singleton ♥K and doesn't want to give away its position by leading a diamond. Declarer would ruff with the queen, and when East couldn't cover with the king, the position would be clear.

So, suiting thought to action, Truscott put the ♥A on the table. He wasn't happy when West followed with the 10. Suddenly he was back where he was before -- down one.

Chalk up another one for the Grosvenor Coup.

Quilt raffle

Tickets are now on sale -- $1 each -- for a raffle that will give away many valuable prizes, including a quilt from Quiltworks worth $1200. Only 1500 tickets will be sold. They are available at the Registration Desk for an hour before each afternoon and evening session.

All the prizes also are on view during the sale period. The drawings will take place just before the start of the evening session Saturday.

The other prizes include a handmade afghan, a handmade framed cross-stitch and three framed Art of Albuquerque posters.

IMP Pairs compete for Lebhar Trophy

The IMP Pairs will begin competition today for the Lebhar Trophy, donated by Bertram Lebhar Jr. in 1948 in memory of his wife Evelyn.

Lebhar (1907-1972), under the name of Bert Lee, had a national reputation as a sportscaster and later as a bridge player and administrator. In private life, he owned radio and television stations in Florida.

Perhaps his greatest achievement arose from his work as ACBL treasurer from 1945 to 1947 and as a member of the Steering Committee.

In the late Forties, Lebhar was instrumental in the modernization of ACBL. He was perhaps the first to visualize ACBL's vast potential for expansion. His farsighted efforts were recognized when he was named ACBL Honorary Member in 1963.

Lebhar was one of the founders of the Greater New York Bridge Association and was elected its first president in 1948.

Lebhar was also a player: he won the Spingold in 1940 and the Master Mixed Teams in 1946. His team was his wife Evelyn along with Samuel Katz and Alicia Kemper.

Lebhar was second in the Chicago (now the Reisinger) and the Vanderbilt in 1946 and 1947, the Spingold in 1953, the Life Master Pairs in 1945 and the Men's Pairs in 1936.

Kantar book signing

Eddie Kantar will autograph copies of his new book Bridge for Dummies today from 11:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. outside Ballroom B on the second floor of the Convention Center.

Gold and a Trip to France in 1998

Friday morning 9:00 a.m. marks the start of a special two-session regionally-rated event to benefit the International Fund, which subsidizes our players to world bridge competition.

Your entry to the game includes one chance to win a trip to the 1998 World Championships. The lucky winner will get two airfares and two rooms for 4 nights during the championships. In addition, 1st, 2nd and 3rd in each strat win additional chances.

Many of our international players have volunteered to be partners to raffle winners who buy a special "expert partner" raffle ticket. All raffle tickets are $5 and can be purchased at the ACBL Information Desk each day during the tournament from noon to 1:00. Or, you can contact Rena Hetzer, extension 307 at ACBL Headquarters, to purchase tickets. The drawing for the trip to France will be done at the St. Louis Fall NABC.

Come play in the game and/or purchase a raffle ticket. All proceeds from the sale of raffle tickets go directly to the International Fund to benefit our United States open and women's teams. In addition, the net proceeds from the sale of entries to this special game go directly to the International Fund.

What's coming up for entertainment?

Special parties, late-night entertainment and great food are coming your way during this NABC, thanks to your Albuquerque hosts.

Tonight a mariachi band will play while you eat your hot dips, chicken taquitos and chili con queso.

A jazz swing band plus hot dogs will be Friday night's highlights. Then Saturday you'll enjoy ice cream bars.

Twice during the tournament dollar chits will be handed out to all players that can be used at any of the snack bars in the Convention Center. Other items such as trail mix and raisins will be distributed during the week.

Hagar's partner meant to bid 1♥ but pulled the wrong card from the bid box. East wasn't overjoyed when Hagar raised her to game in her doubleton, but she decided to take her medicine and pass.

A diamond lead would have given declarer some trouble, but South led a trump. North played low and East won the jack, cashed the ♠A, entered dummy with a heart and drove out the ♠K. The only other trick the defenders got was a diamond. Plus 450 was good for 10.5 out of 12 matchpoints.

You can imagine how happy North-South were to see Hagar and his partner move for the next round.

(1) Break in tempo

The Facts: 6♥ made six, plus 1430 for E/W. The Director was called by West before South bid 5♠. West thought South had ended the auction with a verbal Pass. In reality South stated he thought East had hesitated before East said Pass. The Director ruled that South had not bid and the auction continued.

After the hand was over the Director was called back to the table. The Director ruled that the break in tempo made doubling 5♠ a logical alternative for West. The contract was changed to 5♠ doubled down two, plus 500 for E/W. West stated that he did not agree there had been a break in tempo. The screening Director stated that North, East and South had all previously agreed there had been a break in tempo.

The Appeal: E/W appealed the Director's ruling. South and West appeared before the Committee. West stated that he was under the impression that during an auction that escalated to high levels quickly players should slow their tempo. He was disconcerted by the fact that North had made a rather fast pass after the 5♥ bid. South stated that due to a physical problem manipulating the bidding cards his partner's tempo did sometimes vary. West stated he bid 5♥ over 4♠ because his partnership (each have about 250 masterpoints) was inexperienced and he did not think they had the mechanics to get to 6♥. He could safely bid 5♥ after partner's vulnerable 4♥ bid. He thought that there were no heart losers but they might be a spade and diamond loser. West did not consider bidding 5♣ over 4♠. Once South bid 5♠, West no longer thought their side had a spade loser and that both 5♠ and 6♥ might make. When asked to demonstrate the length of the tempo break, South simulated an eight-second break.

The Committee Decision: The Committee decided that there was a break in tempo and that the 6♥ bid could not be allowed. The Committee did not agree with the West analysis of probable losers. The Committee agreed there was probably no spade loser, probably only one diamond loser, but did not agree the hearts were guaranteed to be solid.

The Committee next decided whether West would double 5♠. East had stated that part of the reason he had bid 6♥ was because 5♠ might make. The Committee, however, believed that if East had passed in tempo, West probably would have doubled 5♠.

The Committee then gave thought to whether East would pull an in-tempo double to 6♥ as cheap insurance. Since E/W was the offending side, the standard required to allow East to take the best action for his side is quite high. In this case the standard could not possibly be met because East had chosen not to appear before the Committee.

Based on the statements heard, the Committee decided they could not find any basis to overturn the Director's ruling. The contract was changed to 5♠ doubled down two, plus 500 for E/W.

WEST	NORTH	EAST	SOUTH
Pass	1♦	1♥	Pass
Pass	2♦	All Pass	1NT

The Facts: 2♦ made three, plus 110 for N/S. Originally, South had placed the 1♥ bid card on the table. When the insufficiency of the bid was called to his attention, South immediately stated that he had intended to bid 1NT. The Director was called. Away from the table, South was firm in his statement that he had intended to bid 1NT and did not know how he had managed to place the 1♥ card on the table. Away from the table, West told the Director that if he were allowed to, he would accept the 1♥ bid and bid 1♠. The Director ruled that South's 1♥ call was inadvertent and could be changed to 1NT (Law 25A) and that the table result would stand.

The Appeal: E/W appealed the Director's ruling. South stated that he did not notice that his call was 1♥ when he pulled the card from the box, when he transported the card to the table, or when he placed it on the table. South stated he was left-handed and had been using his right hand to handle the bidding cards a bit clumsily.

The Committee Decision:

The pivotal issue before the Committee was whether South's 1♥ call was inadvertent. South pulled a card which was not next to the allegedly intended 1NT card, but separated from it by the 1♠ card. It seemed a somewhat remarkable coincidence that South had such a clear 1♥ call had he not seen the 1♥ bid by East. On the other hand, when the insufficiency of the bid was called to South's attention, he immediately said that he had intended to bid 1NT.

The problem the Committee dealt with was how to weigh the evidence of inadvertence. Clearly South was quite negligent if inadvertent. A person careless enough not to check his own bid might have been careless enough to not notice his right-hand opponent's bid. The Committee struggled with the problem of how much imprudence should be tolerated in order to make a finding of inadvertence.

In a split decision, the Committee used the Director's finding of credibility at the table to be determinative of the issue. In cases where a finding of credibility is made at the table, it is sometimes appropriate when the evidence is not clear to use the Director's finding of credibility as the default position for the Committee. The Committee allowed the table result, 2♦ made three, plus 110 for N/S to stand.

Dissenting Opinion: Jan Cohen. As one who does not believe in coincidences, I was too troubled by both the fact that South held five hearts and that the 1♥ bid card is two cards away from the 1NT card to vote that South really intended to bid 1NT.

Foolish economy

When you play bridge, the natural tendency is to save your high cards. As every bridge player knows, sometimes an honor card can be a liability. Haig Tchamitch made an opponent pay for his lack of foresight on this deal from the Stratified Open Pairs Monday. Tchamitch was playing with Berneice Anglea.

North led a low diamond to the 4, king and ace. Tchamitch went to dummy with a spade and led dummy's heart to his 9. North won the ♥J and got out with a spade, taken by Tchamitch in hand. The ♥K drove out the ace and North played another spade.

Tchamitch cashed the rest of the spades, pitching a club from his hand, then played the ♣J, covered by south. North could have saved his side a trick by unblocking the ♣Q, but he did not, and the play came back to haunt him.

Tchamitch cashed his hearts, then got out with a club. North won perforce and, at trick 12, was forced to lead away from his ♦J into the split tenace. Plus 630 was good for most of the matchpoints.

Tracy

Right after the transplant was done, Walker was told she probably would live only about 10 years because of the harmful side effects of the anti-rejection medicine she must take twice a day.

Now that advances have been made in anti-rejection medicine, she's expecting to live as long as anyone else.

"I had a checkup last month and I'm perfectly healthy," she says.

Walker is thankful to her mother, Judy Harrison, and an aunt, Dorene Means, who helped her through the tough times.

It was Means, chairman of the Summer NABC when it was held in Albuquerque in 1982, who got Walker into caddying.

Walker works as a secretary at Aeroparts Repair and Manufacturing in Albuquerque and lectures on organ donation. She also helps counsel patients waiting for heart transplants at Presbyterian Hospital.

Life still isn't a bed of roses for Walker. She's a single parent rearing a teenager. Her son Shawn, 16, is also a caddy at the Summer NABC.

Walker is nothing if not upbeat, however, and prefers to count her blessings. "I've had a lot of support," she says. "I've got a lot to be thankful for. I'm very lucky."

teacher, won their first North American championship. Ross, a native of Austria, is a member of the national Goodwill Committee and has a record of promoting bridge. He started or helped to start duplicate bridge clubs in five different cities in Illinois.

Gaer has also been heavily involved in bridge administration, including the board of directors of Unit 354. He has also been tournament chairman on many occasions. He is a Diamond Life Master with numerous regional wins.

Hemenway and Albert were winners of the IMP Pairs at the 1996 Summer NABC in Miami Beach. Albert also has a win in what was then the North American Men's Swiss Teams (1983 in Honolulu).

The Gustafsons won the Mixed Pairs in 1983 at the Spring NABC in Honolulu. He is a retired physician, she a retired office manager. They placed 15th in the World Senior Pairs in Geneva, Switzerland, in 1990.

This deal contributed to the winning team's only blitz of the day. Considering the slim margin of victory, the blitz was needed.

The expert auction produced an impregnable contract because of the ♠8 in declarer's hand. All Ross had to do was pull trumps, play top hearts and ruff a heart, followed by the ♣K, club to the ace and a club ruff in dummy. Declarer then had only to play a spade from dummy, covering whatever North played. If South won, he would be endplayed.

The fine auction produced a 16-IMP swing because at the other table, the contract with the East-West cards was 6NT, which failed by a trick.

Steve Robinson does himself one better

In the first Daily Bulletin, you read about a deal in which Steve Robinson and Peter Boyd bid to the six level in their 4-4 fit despite knowing that they had a 7-5 fit in another suit. On the following deal from the third round of the Spingold Knockout Teams, Robinson deliberately chose to play slam in a 5-1 spade fit despite the partnership's 7-3 fit in hearts -- and he was right.

After West doubled 5♣, Robinson knew 6♥ would be doomed because the partnership was off an ace -- and Boyd had told him via his pass that he did not have a singleton in the suit.

So Robinson bid the only slam he thought had a chance to make -- 6♠. He didn't know it was a 5-1 fit, but his suit was good enough to manage against all but the foulest breaks.

The slam could still have been defeated with a heart lead, but West did not find that opening shot, so the slam came home. It turned out to be a push because at the other table, East did not find the club lead against 6♥.

'Albuquerque box' aids hot air ballooning

The weather in Albuquerque is widely considered to be the best in the world for ballooning, earning the city its unofficial title as "Balloon Capital of the World."

The famous Albuquerque Box effect enables pilots to launch, move with the winds at different altitudes and even backtrack along their original courses. The unique weather condition is made possible by the combination of the mountain formations and wind characteristics, making precision flying possible.

The annual Albuquerque International Balloon Fiesta runs from the first Saturday through the second Sunday of October and draws more than one million participants.

The Balloon Fiesta has a limited run, but you can take a hot-air balloon ride any time during the year when you visit Albuquerque. Check at an information booth for a list of balloon ride providers.

Juniorcoupons

Junior players (25 or younger) may pick up Junior entry coupons at the ACBL Information Desk, at the I/N selling station or from Charlotte Blaiss, ACBL director of Junior programs.

The coupon, presented with $5 by the Junior named on the coupon, may be used to purchase an entry for one session of any event at the NABC.

Pueblo etiquette

Visitors admitted to pueblos to view the dances are expected to respect the customs and traditions of the tribe.

Some pueblos have strict rules governing photography, sketching and tape recording.

If you have any questions, the pueblo you visit is likely to have a tribal office to help.
