Bridge Big, backed by Zia, strives to 'spice up' bridge

Few people approach bridge with the same passion that Zia Mahmood does, so when he seems extra excited about a new bridge project, it's probably wise to pay attention.

What Zia is touting is a new startup company called Bridge Big, the brainchild of Rene De Waele and Nira Talova, a married couple who live in Rotterdam, Netherlands.

Their dream is to have online bridge games for money – very big money in some cases, up to $100,000.

"We want to spice up bridge," says De Waele, who has a PhD in physics but is more involved in software startups and bridge. Talova has a master's degree in business administration specializing in entrepreneurship.

Says De Waele, "I have always played online poker, but I like bridge much more. It is a much better game."

Zia loves the idea of online play for big stakes:

Zia Mahmood with Bridge Big creators Nira Talova and Rene De Waele.

"It's a fantastic concept."

The playing model, say De Waele, is like online poker, and the prize money will come from the entry fees. The more people playing, the larger the potential payoff.

"Poker is booming," Zia notes, "but bridge is not. Why? The answer is simple – money!"

The allure of Bridge Big's idea is that a person could enter a bridge tournament for $20 and win $100,000. Prizes won't all be that big,

Greenberg, Hand win Mixed Pairs again

Gail Greenberg and Jeff Hand, 2008 winners of the Rockwell Mixed Pairs, thought they had been edged out of a second victory in the event by four-tenths of a matchpoint. Thanks to a scoring correction, they moved into first by sixth-tenths of a matchpoint in one of the closest finishes ever in the event.

Three years ago in Detroit, they won the Mixed Pairs by about one-quarter of a board.

Second place went to Lloyd Arvedon of Natick

Hair today, gone tomorrow

On Sunday evening, Owen Lien and Kevin Dwyer were on Fourth Street Live in downtown Louisville when the two young bridge players heard about the "hair" drive going on for St. Baldrick's Foundation.

The California-based organization has unique fund drives in which people are asked to have their heads shaved, the hair going to children suffering from cancer.

"We were at dinner," said Lien, 22, of Hickory NC. "We thought about it and did it."

Lien, who had a great mop of hair, said it was tougher on Dwyer to agree to be shorn. "He thought it wouldn't grow back," Lien joked.

The two will soon depart for Amsterdam, Netherlands, to represent the U.S. in the White House Junior International bridge tournament.

The St. Baldrick's event is named for a fictional saint, whose name blends "bald" with "St."

Born to blush unseen

By Barry Rigal

The task of a journalist is, as Thomas Hobbes would have said, "Nasty, brutish and short." Once in a while, the pot of gold appears to present itself to you – but the leprechaun is always there, ready to snatch it away from you.

Consider this deal from the Wednesday morning pairs game.

Dr: East ♠ 9 5 2
Vul: E-W ♥ K 10 7 4 3
♦ A J
♣ 9 7 5

♠ Q 7 6 4 3 ♠ 10 8
♥ Q 9 2 ♥ J
♦ 5 ♦ K Q 9 8 7 4 2
♣ A K 10 4 ♣ 8 3 2

♠ A K J
♥ A 8 6 5
♦ 10 6 3
♣ Q J 6

Playing in the early morning pairs is always a give-away that you're not in the event you prefer – in this case, the Vanderbilt.

Looking for matchpoints and masterpoints, you sit North, and after 3♦ by East, double by your partner and pass by West, you try 4♥ with the North hand.

Yes, you'd rather have your doubleton in a black suit, but what's a guy to do?

On the lead of the ♦K, you win the ace, play a heart to the ace for the trump finesse. You draw the last trump and play the ♦J. East wins and exits with a spade (a club endplays his partner at once).

You win the ♠A, cash the ♠K, pitch your spade loser on the ♦10, ruff a spade and lead a club to the jack for the endplay. The cards did indeed lie precisely this way, except that the ♣K and ♣8 were interchanged, so no endplay was necessary to bring home the game.

For the record, any lead but a diamond defeats 4♥

The Insider

Happy St. Patrick's Day. There were over 2 million entries in the Bulletin Limerick contest. Pretty amazing considering only three people were able to complete the crossword and only two of you read this column. "Nantucket" was used in almost half in the submittals while "bridge" was used in the other half. Thanks to all who entered. The S.C. and Boss Baum will be choosing the winner late tonight. The Bulletin Boys will announce the winner tomorrow. The Insider was barred from competition but nevertheless wants to see his published:

There once was a man from Horn Lake
Who made a very huge mistake
He started writing this crap
And found himself in a trap
You must know paragraph two is all fake

In the spirit of the holiday, Irish Coffee will be served free all day in the S.C.'s 42nd floor executive suite. Just take the escalator up to nine, cross over to the third tower, take the elevator to 32, cross over to the executive tower, take the other elevator to 42, give the security guy the password, use your special card key to enter, tell the bartender the Insider sent you and there you go— one free 2-ounce coffee with a drop of Jameson's. The whole trip reminds the Insider of trying to find the side game on day two of an NABC.

Life Master News

Michael Moss, a Grand Life Master of New York NY, has earned his 15,000th masterpoint. Moss has six NABC titles and has finished second five times. He has played internationally and is ranked as a International Master by the World Bridge Federation. Moss has two second-place finishes in world play.

Cindy Henderson of Northfield IL earned her gold card playing in the Tuesday night Swiss Teams with Teri Schneider of Northbrook IL. Their teammates were Judy Auer and Eileen Berwin, both of Columbus OH.

Jan Gray and Jan Iliff, both of Franklin TN, earned Life Master rank. Gray needed .93 gold points and Iliff needed .12. They've won more than five gold in the Monday-Wednesday Knockout Teams. Their teammates were Judy Gandee, Sharon Ricciardi and Helen Hulse, all of Franklin TN.

Cheryl Clark of Dallas TX and Beverly Broomhead of Villa Hills KY are new Life Masters. Clark needed .27 gold and Broomhead needed 4.8. They have won 6.90 to date in the Knockout Teams. Their teammates were Phyllis Bishop and Sue Hermans, both of Cincinnati OH.

New Life Masters please report to the Daily Bulletin office on the second floor of the Suite Tower (Willis Room).

A challenging slam

By Barry Rigal

This deal was played in the round of 32 of the Vanderbilt Knockout Teams.

♠ K Q 9 4
♥ A 5
♦ A K 6 4 2
♣ 10 4

♠ A 8 7 5 3 ♠ J 10 6 2

♣ Q 8 6 ♣ J 9 3

♥ K J 10 7 3
♦ 10 9 8
♣ A K 7 5 2

How would you play 6♦ on a passive lead, perhaps the ♣6?

I agree that it's not a great slam, but curiously if you play for clubs to split you need very little more than the trump break.

You play three rounds of clubs, ruffing in dummy, then cash the ♦A and ♦K. Now your line will hinge on who has the long diamond. If it is West, you should cash the ♥A and ♥K, then run clubs. As the cards lie, West can ruff in when he likes, but if he has a third heart to play, you ruff and hope the hearts come in. If he has only spades, as in the diagram, you will endplay him when he ruffs the club to give you a spade trick and you can then crossruff the rest.

If West discards on your two club winners, you elope will all your remaining trumps, ruffing two hearts in dummy and a spade in hand.

But what if East has the long diamond? In that case, you can play the same line, but East gets to ruff away one of your winners – that means you will need the ruffing spade finesse.

Finally, if clubs are 4-2 with East having the shortage so that he can overruff at trick four, you will need for him to have three diamonds and the ♥Q doubleton or tripleton onside.

JUST FOR NEW PLAYERS

You gotta have heart

By Marti Ronemus

Another day of excitement, world-class bridge, new people. Have you been able to sandwich a tour of the Bluegrass country into your days? If you can do so, don't miss some of the big horse farms. When you see how the horses live and are treated, you might start wishing that you would be reincarnated as a world-class runner!

Writing these articles has gotten me thinking about some of the various horses in my life. People who've not spent a lot of time with horses probably think they are all pretty much the same, and would be astonished to find out how much their personalities differ.

My father's first racehorse was a mare named Sandy Seattle. Dad bought her for the princely sum of $300 (in 1958), and she was the perfect starter horse. One reason he selected Standardbreds was he could be actively involved in the training, and Sandy was a doll. She wasn't temperamental, so Dad could drive her for her practice miles, learning as he went. She was all business, and did whatever she was asked to do — except run really fast! My sisters and I never got emotionally involved with Sandy: she was always polite, but not really interested in us. We learned from her, though...how to groom a horse, how to bathe them, how to (sigh) clean up after them. Even though she never won a race for my dad, she was worth a million bucks in experience.

Then there was Jaws. I can't remember the horse's real name, but you can guess why his stable name was Jaws. We kids were forbidden to enter the barn unless he was firmly locked in his stall. He was the exact opposite of Sandy. Her manners were perfect, but she couldn't run. Jaws paced like the wind, but was unmanageable, and even though he did some serious winning for my father, Dad had to get rid of him because of his temperament.

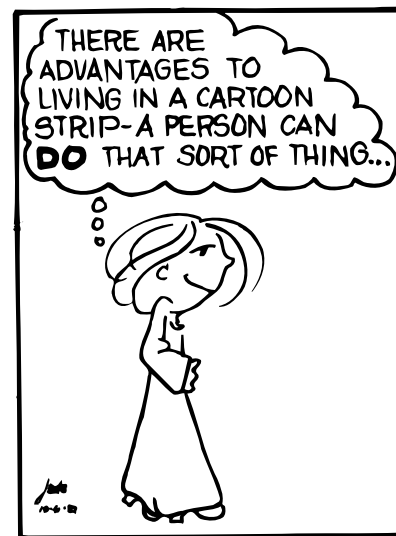

And Lana, my father's first real winner, was a sweetheart! She was built dainty and small, not the conformation of a big winner. Lana was a flirt, curious, loved us kids, would grab hold of a shirt sleeve and shake it playfully. She adored being groomed, would nibble at the brushes, making happy grunts.

Lana was my introduction to heart, that indefinable combination of courage and determination that sets some horses, and people, apart — hard to define, easy to recognize. Lana was born to run, and let her people know it. When a Standardbred is being exercised, it wears one set of equipment. When it is going to be asked for some serious speed or raced, it wears another. Lana would be ecstatic when she saw the racing bike being readied; she knew she would be allowed to let loose that day. Her excitement could make her hard to manage, so whoever was "dressing" her would have to fool her and maneuver her into position without her seeing what she was going to "wear" that day.

Lana not only had a nice racing career despite her tiny size (unfortunately giving Dad a taste for victory) but when she retired from the track, she had several lovely foals. After a long, long life, she died peacefully on my Uncle Dan's farm.

While my dad had more than his share of winners (and heaven knows, plenty of losers), he never had a truly Great Horse. People bandy the phrase Great Horse around, applying it to (in my humble opinion) way too many animals—and people. Once you've seen a great one, you are less likely to use the phrase casually. Walter Farley, author of The Black Stallion, wrote a fictionalized biography of Man 'O War, where he described how awestruck he was when he first saw the horse.

I know what he meant. Once Dad took us to Hanover Shoe Farms, the biggest Standardbred horse farm in the world, and one of their standing stallions, Bullet Hanover, was in the field, exercising. I had no idea what horse it was or what his record was, but he stunned me with his aura. He was beyond majestic, showing no interest in the people looking at him, just moved back and forth across his field (and he made the earth his!) shaking the ground with his power. I would not have been surprised to hear that he was the king of an alien species, come to conquer Earth. This horse was far, far above any I had ever been exposed to, and I have never forgotten the impact he had, even though it was 38 years ago.

And now for our bridge tie-in. I'll bet you can find an equivalent among your bridge acquaintances for every one of these horses. You certainly know Sandy, and no doubt have had to deal with your share of Jaws-like players!

And then there are the great bridge players. There's a lot more to the greats than just the ability to win. They have "heart." Unlike the magnificent Bullet Hanover, you might not be able to spot them from their physical presence, but when you sit down with them, and they graciously set about stomping you with class and kindness, you'll recognize them for sure. And not forget them easily!!

So let me hear about the characters you are meeting... what are they like? Please e-mail me your stories and experiences. I'm bored and lonely with this stupid broken leg. mronemus@comcast.net

West	North	East	South
1♥	Pass	2♣	Pass
4♣	Pass	5♣	All Pass

Opening lead: ♠A.

Bidding commentary: As West, it is wiser not to redouble with 11+ HCP when you have a two-suited hand. It is wiser to simply making a forcing bid at the one level with the intention of bidding your other suit next. You want to get both suits in before competition starts and this is the best way. A one-level response after a takeout double is unlimited and should be treated as if second hand has passed. As North, once West bids, you are off the hook and should be happy to pass. East's 2♣ bid is natural and not forcing. As West, your jump raise to 4♣, bypassing 3NT, is both forcing and slam invitational. East, with a minimum, signs off in 5♣.

Defensive commentary: As South, shift to a trump at trick two rather than set up declarer's ♠Q, a card partner doesn't have given the negative signal at trick one.

Play commentary: As East, with high trumps and short suits on both sides, think "crossruff." Start by counting your top tricks. You have the club trick that you have just taken plus both red aces for three. Next, count the trump tricks available. You remain with four trumps in dummy facing three in your hand all of which can be made separately. Bottom line: you start with three top tricks and can make seven more trump tricks by crossruffing. You are short one trick, so you need the heart finesse. After you take the heart finesse and it wins, cash the ♥A, discarding a spade, cash the ♦A and merrily ruff diamonds and hearts back and forth for 11 tricks.

Thoughtful play

Stiefel led the ♠9 (Rusinow leads), and DeMartino signaled encouragement with the 7. Stiefel said afterwards that DeMartino's play was thoughtful, preventing him from breaking another suit to the detriment of the defense.

Declarer won the ♠A and led the ♥J from hand. Stiefel took the ♥Q and continued with the ♠6. Declarer won with the jack and advanced the ♥4. Stiefel won the ♥K and got out with the ♠8, DeMartino discarding the ♣2.

At that point, declarer should have cashed his fourth spade to discard a diamond from dummy. He would pay for that error.

Declarer took the third round of spades and played the ♣J, ducked by Stiefel. Declarer played low from dummy, and DeMartino won the queen. A second round of clubs put Stiefel in. He cashed the ♥A and stuck declarer in dummy with a fourth round of trumps.

Despite his strong hand, Stiefel had passed smoothly over 1NT, so declarer played DeMartino for the ♦A. Declarer had discarded diamonds from his hand on the third and fourth round of hearts, so he was down to a doubleton king when he led the ♦J from dummy.

DeMartino covered with the queen, and Stiefel took the ace when declarer played the king. Now a diamond to the 10 put DeMartino in to cash the ♦6.

That was three down for plus 300 to the New Englanders – good for all the matchpoints (77).

Watch those spots

By Barry Rigal

This excellent card-play problem arose during our second-round loss in the Vanderbilt Knockout Teams. It's a two-parter: consider it first in 6♣ by North and then the actual problem of 6♣ by South.

♠ A Q 3
♥ K Q 8 5
♦ A 9 8 5

♥ A 10
♦ J 10 7
♣ A K Q 10 7 6

In 6♣ by North on a trump lead, you draw trumps, pitching a spade from hand. Now perhaps the best thing to do is strip off four rounds of hearts, then run the ♦J to endplay East unless he began with five hearts. Almost as good at trick four is to run the ♦J, won by East with the queen. He must return a low heart, and you put in the 10. To give you any problem, West must be able to cover with the ♥J. You win the ♥Q, unblock the ♥A, then cross to the ♦A, cash the ♥K (hoping for the 9 to drop), pitching a diamond from dummy.

If the ♥9 does not appear, you ruff a diamond in dummy, and if the remaining high diamond does not appear, you fall back on the spade finesse. That's about a 90% shot, I think.

At the table in 6♣ by South, on the lead of the ♦4 you duck and East wins the king. Back comes a trump, and you draw three rounds, then cash the three top hearts. If the ♥J 9 fall, it's all over. At the table, East shows out on the third heart. You now pitch the ♦10 on the third heart and play the ♦A, West following with the 2, East with the 8. When you lead the ♦9 from dummy, East follows with the 6. Who has the queen? Surely East. If West has led the ♦4 from Q-4-2, he deserves to beat you!

A Grand Old Time

By Daniel Wolkowitz

With the top 55 seeds in the Vanderbilt receiving byes, the ACBL organized a closed Swiss for Monday. A few teams elected to play their own practice sessions, instead partaking in the official warm-up. One of these featured the Onstott and Deutsch teams in a friendly but exciting match.

How would you and your partner bid these cards?

followed by Blackwood and a signoff in 6♥. At the other, Icelanders Thorlakur Jonsson and Jon Baldursson used a strong club opening and a nine-round auction in which East showed 1-5-3-4 with the ♦A Q and the ♣Q. This seemed like enough to provide two chances for the grand – or did it?

The auction had made West declarer and North, Ron Smith of San Francisco led a diamond away from the king. One potential problem of pinpointing dummy's assets is that the defenders will know what to lead at trick one.

Baldursson could not afford to take the diamond finesse at trick one because he had plenty of other chances to make his contract (doubleton ♣J, 3-3 clubs or four clubs to the jack with the ♦K).

However, it's likely that West would have bid the grand anyway without the ♦J, and there was no guarantee that East held the ♣10. If that was the case, the diamond lead would force declarer's hand at trick one. On the actual hand, Smith held the ♦K but clubs were 3-3 and declarer guessed the end position correctly.

This deal came up in the second half:

♠ Q 10 9 6
♥ Q 3
♦ A K 10 9 3 2
♣ K

♠ A J 2
♥ A K 6 5 4 2
♣ A J 3

Having reached a mediocre 7♥ contract, how would you play on the lead of the ♥10?

Obviously, you need 3-2 trumps and to either pick up the diamonds for at least four tricks or take a spade finesse. How should you play to best combine your chances while avoiding a dangerous overruff?

There are two rather straightforward lines. One is to draw trumps in three rounds, and play for diamonds 3-3 or the ♠K onside.

Another line is for declarer to win in hand, play the ♦A and ruff a diamond, return to the ♥Q and ruff a diamond. This often beats the first line when the diamonds are 4-2 with the ♠K offside but loses when LHO is 3-2 in hearts and diamonds. It also loses when the ♠K is onside and diamonds are 6-0 or 5-1 with the defense able to ruff or score an extra trump trick via an uppercut when RHO is 2-1 in the reds.

As for the actual percentages, I'll leave that to the real math experts out there. My inclination is that the second line is a few percentage points better, but not much more than that. At the table, this line was the winner, with LHO holding ♠K 5 3 ♥J 10 7 ♦Q 8 5 4 ♣9 5 2

Both tables were in the grand with one declarer trying each line, so this was a 20-IMP pickup for Onstott.

Bridge big

but the Bridge Big creators and Zia are hoping that competition for cash prizes will attract more interest from the public and the news media, giving bridge a shot in the arm.

The company will begin a testing phase next month and plan to roll out the finished product during the summer, possibly in July.

There will be a demo match on Friday at 11 a.m. in the Breathitt Room in the Suite Tower, second floor. Bridge Big will award three $100 cash prizes to spectators in a drawing.

Players are also invited to become beta testers for Bridge Big. Information is available on the home page: bridgebig.com.

An obvious concern, acknowledged by the Bridge Big creators and Zia, is security (translation: cheating). They have already thought of that.

To assure that no player gains an unfair advantage, all competitions will be individuals, one board per round with an unknown partner against unknown opponents (all such information will be revealed when the contest is over). No kibitzers are allowed, and the scoring will be duplicate but not against the field. The comparisons will be against the "history" of a deal that may have been played hundreds of times previously.

This is what the Bridge Big creators have written about security on the company web site:

Security

Anywhere there's real money at stake, people will look for ways to cheat. On Bridge Big, this will be no different. Bridge Big is committed to prevent any kind of cheating on its site.

On bridge sites today it is very easy to cheat because players are allowed to see who their partners are. The only way to deal with this security issue is by playing individually and anonymously. As an extra measure, players will not be allowed to chat with their partners during a game, although they may still talk to their opponents. Even if players somehow find out who they're partnering with, they can only benefit from this for one board, after which they're split up again.

However, even when players are not each other's partners they may still try to exchange information about their hand to other players in the tournament. To prevent this type of collusion, players cannot see what direction they sit at the table and what board they're playing. The vulnerability at the table will also give no clue as all simultaneously played games in a tournament share the same vulnerability and dealer combination. The limited time players have for one board also limits the feasibility for players to exchange useful information. Only after a board has been played by everyone in the field will a user be able to see all four complete hands.

In smaller tournament settings, these measures might still not prove sufficient. Although seating schedules on Bridge Big will never allow two or more tables to be playing the same board simultaneously, players could still leak information about previously played boards to each other.

In larger tournaments this is less of a threat as players will be divided over multiple sections, each with a unique set of boards, hindering player collusion significantly as collaborating players will be seated in different sections for most of the tournament.

In smaller tournaments or in the final rounds of a large knockout tournament it would be preferable if boards are only played exactly once. Scores would be compared not to other players in the tournament, but to all players that ever played the board before in previous tournaments. Aside from thwarting colluders, this measure has an additional advantage: it provides players with a fairer score, as their results are compared to hundreds of other players, instead of only the handful that are in the tournament.

Women's Pairs compete for Whitehead Trophy

Play begins today in the Whitehead Women's Pairs with two qualifying sessions, followed by two final sessions tomorrow.

This is the 79th Women's Pairs. At stake is the Whitehead Trophy, donated in 1930 by Wilbur C. Whitehead of New York, a great bridge authority and a member of the team that won the Vanderbilt Cup in 1928, the first year it was in play.

Whitehead (1866-1931) was president of the Simplex Automobile Company, but bridge held such a fascination for him that he retired from business in 1910 to devote his life to bridge.

He was the inventor of many bidding and play conventions, the quick-trick table of card values, the Whitehead system of requirements for original bids and responses and the Whitehead table of preferential leads.

Whitehead was instrumental in standardizing procedures in auction bridge and later in contract bridge.

The 2010 Silodor Open Pairs winners were Nicholas L'Ecuyer and Stephen Landen.

Open Pairs competitors vie for Silodor Trophy

The Silodor Open Pairs is a four-session event consisting of two qualifying and two final sessions. The winners' names are engraved on the Silodor Trophy, presented in memory of Sidney Silodor, winner of the Bermuda Bowl, the McKenney Trophy and more than 30 North American championships.

Silodor, a member of the team that won the first Bermuda

Bowl World Championship in 1950, won the Vanderbilt eight times, the Reisinger six times, the Spingold, the Open Pairs and the Master Mixed Teams three times each and the Mixed Pairs five times.

Barry Crane holds the record in the event with seven victories.

Silodor was an original member of the Bridge Hall of Fame, elected in the Sixties when the institution was the province of its creator, The Bridge World magazine.

The trophy was presented in 1963 in memory of Silodor and made retroactive to include winners of the event, which began in 1958.

Winners of the Red Ribbon Pairs in 2010: Bob Levey and Jim Ritzenberg.

Red Ribbon Pairs begins today

The Red Ribbon Pairs, an ACBL event with national rating open to players with fewer than 2000 masterpoints, gets underway today.

Players earn qualification by placing first or second overall in regionally rated events of at least Flight B status.

Neither member of a qualifying pair may hold more than 2000 masterpoints at the time of qualification.

The four-session event began in 1986 and winners have their names inscribed on the Percy X. Bean Trophy.

Bean Trophy

The trophy was designated by the ACBL Board of Directors in 1996 to honor Bean, ACBL president in 1972 and chairman of the Board in 1973.

Bean (1916-1992) represented District 19 on the Board from 1964 until 1988 and served as president of the ACBL Charity Foundation from 1974 until 1981. He was a member of the National Goodwill Committee and the National Board of Governors and general chairman of arrangements for the World Team Olympiad in Seattle in 1984.

Bean and his wife, Anne, were named ACBL Honorary Members for 1992, the first time that honor was bestowed on a husband-wife combination.

Bean was the editor of Mad, Mad World of Bridge, a publication that strongly championed players of less than expert class.

Michigan players live through some cold weather, and sometimes trot out the newer style "Specific King Asking" to bid some cold contracts! Watch frequent winner and recent Platinum Life Master Beverly Gardner of Farmington Hills MI in action on Board 10 of the first final session of the Rockwell Mixed Pair (hands rotated):

- (1) Modified Ogust.
- (2) Contrived "good" hand, bad suit.
- (3) Roman Keycard Blackwood.
- (4) Specific king asking "below our suit."
- (5) ♣K.

By partnership agreement, weak two-bids, even at unfavorable vulnerability are usually "bad hands." So, nothing was sure when I could have opened ♦J 9 8 5 4 3 and a side card. Gardner took full advantage, despite being the person preempted by her own partner. She started patiently with 2NT — modified Ogust. She learned that I liked my hand, ostensibly 8--10 high-card points, and didn't like my suit (I upgraded my two kings; she's seen my active bidding over many years!).

After RKC confirmed the ♦K, Gardner was not content with the likely small slam. Because she could sign off later, Gardner tried 5NT on the off-chance that I held the ♣K. Now she could count 12 top tricks (one spade, two hearts, six diamonds and three clubs), and aggressively bid the grand slam which could have various squeeze or split chances. When the ♣J dropped early, 13 tricks and a near top were Gardner's reward for thoughtful bidding.

To top it off, Bridge Big will constantly be tracking connections between users on the site to prevent any long-term cheating. If two users happen to frequently play in the same tournament, they will at one point be prevented from joining the same tournament. On poker sites, a similar strategy is applied successfully. In case users have any personal information like address, e-mail address or bank accounts in common, they are never permitted to play in the same tournament.

Patrick.” In 2000, a group of three Irish-American reinsurance executives from Monrovia CA came up with a unique fundraiser in conjunction with St. Patrick’s Day: a head-shaving event to benefit kids with cancer.

Twenty people who volunteered to shave their heads collected pledges from their friends in an effort to raise $17,000 on the 17th. They raised more than $104,000, and an annual event was born.

The concept spread throughout the country. Since 2,000, more than 147,000 people, including 12,000 woman, have participated and raised more than $90 million.

MA and Carolyn Sessler of Boca Raton FL.

Hand and Greenberg have been regular partners for about seven years. He is a full-time player, and she owns the Honors Bridge Club in her home town of New York City.

The win was Greenberg’s 18th North American championship. Besides the two Mixed Pairs wins with Hand, she also has a victory in the event with Ahmed Hussein, in 1978. Hand now has two North American titles to his credit.

In 18th place at the start of play on Wednesday, they positioned themselves for the win with a 63.19% game in the first final session. Their 57.85% game in the second final session was enough to secure the win.

Lots more than Gatlinburg

There's still time to make your reservations for April 11-17 at Gatlinburg, Tenn, the gateway to the Great Smoky Mountains. These Mid-Atlantic regionals follow, all offering our usual fare: Bracketed knockouts galore, Gold Rush pairs for 0-750 MP players, and hospitality to the max.

• Richmond, VA, on May 24-30. There are several Memorial Day regionals, and thanks to a great local newcomer program, this will be the ACBL's largest. Excellent site convenient by air or interstate. Holiday Inn Koger Center (804) 379-3800. Co-chair: Jacki Shuman (804) 307-4304, richmondregional@aol.com

• Greenville, SC, on June 6-12. The Heritage Regional is at one of the Mid-Atlantic's nicest venues, with loads of shops and restaurants a short walk out the front door. Lots of alternative lodging nearby. Hyatt Regency (864) 235-1234. Co-chair: Jim Villanueva (864) 322-6153, jaimepvillanueva@aol.com

• Reston, VA, on June 28-July 4. Our Nation's Capital regional is one of the longest running attractions in the ACBL. This year it's Northern Virginia's turn to pull out all the stops on player hospitality. Chair: Margot Hennings (703) 560-0245, margot10bridge@cox.net.

• Hunt Valley, MD, on Aug. 15-21. New and improved schedule! The countryside outside of Baltimore lures one of the year's largest contingents of East Coast bridge players. Baltimore Marriott Hunt Valley Inn (410) 785-7000. Chair: Patricia Wilson (410) 825-7579, valleybridg@cs.com

Friday's Sponsors

Clever Cooks 299er, 199er, 99er, 49er 0-20, 0-5 Pairs

The Clever Cooks fixed special lunches for Verna Goldberg's Friday game. Some of the memorable meals included chili, soups, barbecued pork sandwiches, chicken salad, potato salad, cakes and more. The cooks include Al Bevins, Carolyn Carpenter, Connie Crockett, Hannah Davis, Cheryl Klein, Perry Moore, Cheryl Overy, Gail Slater and Tinker Zimmerman.

Bonnie and Lynda Lawson Memorial Side Game

Bonnie Lawson died in 2009 after a multi-year battle with cancer, followed soon afterwards by the unexpected death of her daughter, Lynda. Bonnie and her husband, Marvin, ran the Henderson KY game for years and were well known as bridge promoters throughout western Kentucky and southern Indiana.

Bonnie won numerous regional and sectional championships; always at tournaments close to Henderson as she rarely traveled away from home. At the table she was famous for her fierce competitive spirit, the quality of her play, and for her calm and friendly demeanor. Indeed, Bonnie will always be remembered for her kindness and grace. We name this event in her and her daughter's honor and as a tribute to her, her daughter and her husband Marvin, who continues to run the Henderson game and promote bridge in western Kentucky.

Eleanor Orr Memorial 299er Pairs

Eleanor Orr was primarily a rubber bridge player, but she was devoted to the game and played several times each week. She particularly enjoyed her Thursday afternoon game with Florence "Teach" Tyler. Florence Tyler wrote the daily bridge column for the Cincinnati Inquirer for many years and doubtless acquired some of her example hands from the Thursday afternoon games.

Linda Blum Memorial Stratified 299er Swiss Team

Linda A. Blum (1944 - 2009) was born in Iowa, married Sam Blum and moved to Louisville, and finally settled in Tampa FL. She became an active and participating member of her Synagogue and local community. While raising a family of four, she never lost sight of her responsibilities to all of the organizations she loved. Ultimately, she became the leader and spokesperson of these groups. Her influence covered the entire southeastern region of the U. S. In her spare time (!) she loved to play bridge. Although her schedule did not permit steady participation, she played as often as she could. We all loved her and miss her!

Jim Washer Memorial Stratified Open Pairs By Ralph Letizia

Jim Washer and I ran into each other in the early Eighties at a local sectional. I had been playing for some time and he just decided to show up and see what the game was all about. We found we had a myriad of things in common, and soon became good friends. Naturally, the conversation drifted toward bridge and we discussed playing together. After a few games, it was clear that while he was quite the novice, he also was very intelligent and had a real knack for the game. Because I already had several regular partners, I suggested that he ask other good players for games and see where it took him.

After about a year or so, we decided to form a team of local players and see what we could do. Amazingly enough, out of five regional knockout events, that we played in we won three and finished second in another! Jim played at least half and usually three-fourths of the boards in every match, and we were never behind when he came out.

In the early part of this century, he and I decided to form a partnership so we could play the Precision Club system. Due to totally different styles, we struggled for the first year, and even contemplated shelving the partnership and just playing on teams with different people. We persisted, however, and eventually developed a rock-solid partnership winning many sectional and regional events. Jim liked to play as much bridge as possible during our local regional tournaments and was the leading masterpoint winner at least three times. His sudden passing in 2009 was a harsh blow to all who knew him. His genial smile and warped humor will always be missed.

Friday is Verna's Fun-filled Friday Game Day

Averaging 16 to 18 tables, Verna's Friday game is always lively. Director Verna Goldberg helps make it a fun-filled day. The clever cooks earned money from the Friday players to dedicate this day to Verna, a special director, mentor, teacher and friend.

Monitoring

At this and future North American Championships, ACBL will be monitoring NABC+ events with visible, real-time cameras. The images will be recorded and will be available for later official inspection and review.

By general monitoring of the session and participants' behavior, ACBL has another source of information that may be useful in determining facts and settling issues arising from some types of ethical and behavioral complaints or actions. Please summon a director if a problem occurs at the table.

This procedure is intended to assure everyone that the playing field is level and that misbehavior will not be tolerated.

Bid Box Alerts and Announcements

When using bid boxes, the ACBL requires that players tap the Alert strip and say "Alert" at the same time.

When making an Announcement, use the Announcement word (such as "transfer") and tap the Alert strip at the same time.

A player who Alerts or Announces a bid must make sure his opponents are aware that an Alert or Announcement has been made.

John Hinton and Cyndy Cradick Day

Cyndy Cradick is one of the most-beloved bridge teachers, directors and managers in the Central Indiana Bridge Association (CIBA). This Silver Life Master has devoted her life to bridge over several decades and is the reason many new players enter the bridge world and go on to become avid bridge contenders. Cyndy has worked very hard to create a partnership with members of the local ABA, and through her efforts, many of our ABA friends are frequent players at ACBL games. For nearly two decades, Cyndy served as secretary for Unit 130, retiring in 2010. As caddy master, she has recruited and trained many local youngsters to caddy CIBA events. In her spare time, along with husband John, Cyndy spends many hours with her kids and grandkids. An avid reader, she can also now be frequently found with her new Kindle. She never fails to end a game without saying, "Thanks for coming." We say to her, "Thanks for being there when we came."

John Hinton served the Central Indiana Bridge Association as Unit Treasurer for nearly two decades. His hard work brought many organizational improvements to the Unit's business and bookkeeping efforts. While tackling these duties for CIBA, John found time to hold the same job for District 11. John is a fierce competitor and has attained Gold Life Master status. He recently decided to retire from his duties as treasurer of CIBA and District 11 so that he could concentrate on spending more time with Brenda and their children, some of whom are already serving as caddies for area tournaments. The members of CIBA appreciate John's kindness and patience, and hope with some of his volunteer work behind him, we now will have more opportunity to see him at the bridge table. Thanks for your efforts, John.

Churchill Downs Bracketed Knockouts

Horse racing in Kentucky is rich in history, dating back to 1789 when the first race course was laid out in Lexington. It was almost 100 years later, however, in 1875, that Churchill Downs officially opened and began its tradition as "Home of the Kentucky Derby."
