Deas top woman in masterpoints

In 1964 Mary Jane Farell was named Los Angeles Times Woman of the Year for overtaking Helen Sobel Smith and becoming the woman with the most masterpoints in the ACBL. She held that distinction for 38 years, but someone has finally gone past her.

Lynn Deas is now number one among women – the February masterpoint cycle showed her with 34 more points than Farell.

Of course it was only a question of time. Farell rarely plays these days, so many women active in the bridge wars are closing in. It was the same in the race for all players – it took Paul Soloway many years to overtake Barry Crane.

Deas, a many-time world champion, has made it to the top despite being forced to travel and play in a wheelchair because of a severe neuromuscular

Zia Mahmood gave Elly Goodman a chance to talk about food or romance in their one-on-on discussion, but not surprisingly they wound up talking about bridge. The special program put on by the local committee excited both the experts and those who chatted with them.

Getting to know the experts

Lots of players know lots more about lots of experts today. They took advantage of their chance to have one-on-on conversations with their favorite stars yesterday.

Each 15-minute conversation was private – tables were set up in the Independence Ballroom with plenty of space around each table. Interested players made a $6 donation to charity, had some rolls and juice and then joined the expert they had selected.

What did they talk about? It varied widely from table to table. As you wandered by you could hear talk of conventions, play problems, personal questions, appeals and just plain chatter.

Mike Wickham of Chicago, who has been playing bridge since he was 15, wanted to know how Rose Meltzer and Kyle Larsen got their start in bridge. Kyle told how his career went back to the Sixties – at the time he was one of the youngest players ever to achieve Life Masterhood.

"I didn't get serious about the game until the Nineties," said Meltzer, captain of the victorious Bermuda Bowl team in 2001. "I got into bridge big after I retired. I met Peter Weichsel and I was on my way."

No. 1 Vandy seed kayoed on day 3

Reese Milner won't be accepting a second straight Vanderbilt Knockout Teams trophy. His No. 1 seeded team is on the sidelines today after being routed by the Jim Foster foursome on the third day of the event. The final score was 175-61.

Milner and three members of this year's team – Sam Lev, Jacek Pszczola and Piotr Gawrys – upset the favored Nick Nickell squad in the Vanderbilt final last year in Houston. This year's team features Michael Kwiecien and Krzysztof Jassem instead of John Mohan and Marc Jacobus.

It didn't seem to matter to the new No. 1 seed, an Alabama-Tennessee foursome – Foster and Allen Hawkins of Birmingham, and Linda and Ron Smith of Chattanooga TN.

They jumped out to an early lead and increased it every quarter.

Milner wasn't the only top seed to go down – five others in the top 16 are out. They are, by cap-Continued on page 3

Battle of the sixes

Sam Lev's ingenious defense gave Bart Bramley fits on this deal from the second final session of the Silodor Open Pairs I.

Considering the vulnerability, Bramley wasn't all that happy with his contract. Somehow he had to find eight tricks and go down just one if his side was going to get a reasonable score. Things looked even worse when Reese Milner led the $10 - Bart's $K$ was caught in the middle.

But he saw a silver lining – if Milner's second club was the 8, then eventually Bart's &6 would become the master in the suit. So he covered with the king and lost to the ace. At many tables West continued with clubs here, but Lev realized the same thing Bramley had – the 6 would be the master eventually. So Lev switched to a heart, planning to try for a trump promotion eventually. Dummy's ace took Milner's king, and Bramley called for another heart to set up dummy's 10.

Lev won with the ♥Q and cashed the ♣Q and ♣J, Milner discarding a heart. But he didn't lead the fourth club – he switched back to a heart, giving Bramley a number of choices. After careful though, he finally threw his good ♣6 – "That card had accomplished its mission," said Bramley.

Next he cashed the top spades, noting that Lev followed with the jack on the second round. Bramley led a third spade, intending to ruff low, but Lev wasn't about to let that happen – he ruffed with the 7, forcing Bramley to overruff with the 10. By this time Bramley knew East had the ◆J. Why? Because Lev had shown up with 14 high card points in a balanced hand. If he had had 15, he would have opened 1NT instead of 1♣.

So Bramley led a trump, putting in the 9 from dummy to force the ace. Lev followed through on his heart plan by leading a fourth round of the suit, and Bramley ruffed with the 4, forcing Milner to ruff with the 8. Bramley overruffed that with the king.

When Bramley led a spade, that •6 came into its own. Lev's only remaining trump was the 2, so Bramley was able to ruff with the 6 as Milner helplessly followed suit. He won the last trick with the trump queen, having completely neutralized Milner's trump jack. That was down one - the result Bramley was shooting for from the outset. "We managed to salvage 59 of the 90 matchpoints available," said Bramley.

A bizarre result

Nobody ever knows how an insufficient bid is going to change things. Seldom do things change as much as they did on this deal from the 0-3000 Knockout Teams.

Of course the director was called at this point, and North did not accept the insufficient bid. Mike Alioto knew his passed partner would be barred from bidding if he changed his denomination, so he decided to try to make it tough for the opponents by psyching 1. A few second later he found himself declaring 1. and he was very pleased with his dummy. The defense slipped a bit and he actually took 10 tricks.

Lord knows

After he and Roger Lord won the Levintritt Silver Ribbon Pairs, Alan Popkin was effusive in praise of his partner's skill on offense. "He is a brilliant declarer," said Popkin.

On this deal from the second final session, Lord demonstrated that his partner knows what he's talking about.

Lord overcame the problem of what do with his hand after his partner's 2♦ rebid. Bidding 2♥ might work out badly if Popkin had a singleton heart. The 5-2 fit was at least playable.

North led a low diamond, and Lord could see that 10 tricks were available in a diamond partial. He needed to take at least nine tricks in hearts to do better.

South won the opening lead with the +A and returned the +10 to North's ace. A club was returned, and Lord ruffed in dummy. Lord stopped to wonder why the opponents were forcing dummy instead of playing trumps. He inferred that South had length in trumps and was trying to limit the number of times Lord could lead trumps toward his hand.

Accordingly, he played the  $\blacktriangledown 10$  from dummy and let it ride. When the  $\blacktriangledown 10$  held, Lord played a diamond to his king and followed with the  $\blacktriangledown K$ , noting the fall of the  $\blacktriangledown 8$  from North.

South won the  $\bigvee$ A and played a club to Lord's queen. Lord then followed with a spade to the ace, the  $\bigwedge$ K and a spade ruff. At trick 10, he held a low diamond and the  $\bigvee$ Q 7. All he had to do was exit with a diamond to North's queen and claim with the  $\bigvee$ Q 7 over South's  $\bigvee$ J 6.

Plus 140 was worth 48 out of 51 matchpoints.

Danny and Jo Ann Sprung were in charge of the preparation of the souvenir program.

Bernace DeYoung and John Russell finish second in the Silver Ribbon Pairs.

Counting pays off

Sue Picus arrived at slam on this deal. That was the easy part. Making 12 tricks was not so easy. If the defense had started with a spade she would have had no chance.

Not surprisingly the opening lead was the ♥Q. Picus discarded her two spades on the top hearts and ruffed a third heart. She drew trumps and stopped to do a little counting. North had shown out on the third heart, so South had seven hearts. Therefore South had nine red cards because she followed to two trumps. North had passed 2♥, so chances were he didn't have seven spades. That meant South had three spades and therefore only a singleton club.

So Picus led a club from hand to the 10, queen and king. Following through on her initial conclusion she finessed North for the &J and chalked up her slam.

Oh, Boye!

By P.O. Sundelin

On this deal from the third round of the Vanderbilt Knockout Teams, Norway's Boye Brogeland showed his enormous skill as a declarer. Brogeland was playing with Tony Forrester on the Rita Shugart squad against John Schermer and Neil Chambers of the Larry Mori team.

The bidding was not recorded, but Brogeland played 3NT as East after he opened 1NT and South, Chambers, had shown a spade suit.

The defense put Brogeland to the test, but he came out on top.

Chambers started with a low spade to the 10 and king. Brogeland played a diamond to the jack at trick two, and Schermer returned the $\delta J$ to South's ace. The $\delta 2$ cleared the suit and presumably showed a potential entry in clubs.

Brogeland discarded a club on the ♠Q, and played a diamond back to his hand, and advanced the ♥9, 8, 2, and Schermer ducked! Brogeland cashed a third diamond, only to discover that South had started with four. Next came the ♥10, ducked again by Schermer. At that point, however, South was feeling some pressure. He had to let go of a spade, and when the ♥K followed, this was the position:

To throw a diamond was fatal, so was a spade, since then Brogeland could afford to give up a diamond to establish his ninth trick. So Chambers threw the ♣9. But Brogeland had no difficulty in executing the coup de grace: ♣A and jack threw Schermer in for a stepping stone to dummy's ♥A.

At the other table, the less-exciting contract of 3 \( \text{ was played by South, who went down three.} \)

Milner wasn't the only top seed to go down – five others in the top 16 are out. They are, by captain and seed number: Steve Landen (11), Gerald Sosler (12), Bart Bramley (14), Jim Mahaffey (15) and Grant Baze (16).

Landen went down to Glenn Milgrim, Sosler was ousted by Mark Gordon, Bramley was kayoed by Joe Grue, Mahaffey was beaten by Christal Henner-Welland and Baze lost to Richard Pavlicek.

The No. 4 seed, captained by George Jacobs, had a tough time with Simon Kantor. Jacobs, playing with Ralph Katz and four members of the world champion Italian team (Alfredo Versace-Lorzenzo Lauria, Norberto Bocchi-Giorgio Duboin), had to fight off a fourth-quarter challenge to survive, 119-105.

Today's matchups, by seed number and captain are 1 Foster vs. 16 Pavlicek, 2 Nick Nickell vs. 15 Henner-Welland, 3 Richard Schwartz vs. Grue, 4 Jacobs vs 13 Lou Ann O'Rourke, 5 Rose Meltzer vs. 12 Mark Gordon, 6 Rita Shugart vs. 11 Glenn Milgrim, 7 Steve Robinson vs. 10 Roy Welland and 8 Charlie Weed npc (Jimmy Cayne) vs. 9 Malcolm Brachman.

My son the genius

By Zia Mahmood

See photo on page 1

This year bridge players everywhere have the opportunity to compete in the new European Open Championships, scheduled for June 14-28 in the French Mediterranean resort of Menton at the Palais de l'Europe. As part of a series leading up to the championships, the mercurial Zia offers a glimpse into the future.

If you don't see me winning any tournaments for a while, don't be surprised. It's not that I am becoming senile (that, too), but I am too busy playing with my one-and-a-half-year-old son, Zain. That means that at times when I should be reading the system notes, I am gleefully playing soccer in the park.

Naturally, the important question looming is, "Should I ever encourage him to learn bridge?" My gut reaction is no. I wouldn't like him to spend his life as I did, albeit with great passion, in the pursuit of a one-suit squeeze.

And what if the dream I had the other night was a look into the future? In it, my son (aged about 10) returned home from a bridge lesson. He was furious! "The teacher told me I wasn't any good," he complained.

"What happened," I asked.

"I held four hearts – K Q 10 7– against a 4 • contract. Partner led the ♥9. I played the queen and declarer won the ace. Later when I got in, I played the ♥10, and declarer won his stiff jack."

"That does sound wrong," I said. "You know the rule about cashing winners in suit contracts."

"Of course," Zain said, "but it was you who taught me that there always are exceptions. This was my hand as East."

"Partner led the ♥9 and this was the dummy,"

Zain told me.

♣ K Q 10 5

"I played the queen and declarer won the ace," Zain continued. "South now played the ♣3, partner played the 2 and I took declarer's king with the ace. I was about to play the ♥K when I stopped to think. It seemed the whole deal looked like this (declarer likely to hold seven spades and one club):

♦ J 8 5 ♥ 532 ♦ Q 6 4 ♣ K Q 10 5 ∧ K Q 6 ♥ 9864 ♥ K Q 10 7 ♦ J972 ♦ K 10 5 ♣ J 9 6 4 2 ♣ A 8 7 ♠ A 10 9 7 4 3 2 ♥ A J ♦ A 8 3 . 3

"If I played the ♥K and another heart, declarer would ruff and play a low spade to dummy's 8. I would be endplayed, so it seemed the only chance was to sacrifice a heart trick.

"But exiting with the ♥7 wouldn't work either. Declarer could win, lead a spade to dummy's 8 and my queen. Now if I played the ♥10, declarer would discard a diamond and I would still have to give dummy an entry. No, the only card to defeat the contract was the ♥10. That way I could later play the ♥7 and declarer could not afford to discard, as partner could win the trick."

That's when the teacher got angry. But I could see my son was correct. What a defense! Brilliant! Experts could look at all four hands and never see the position. I was excited and thrilled, until I started to see the follow-ups. Eddie Kantar and Barry Rigal hounding my son endlessly for hands. Bob Hamman chasing him to play in the Blue Ribbon Pairs. And worse, endless hours in chat rooms on the Internet, discussing double dummy problems with Kevin Rosenberg (son of Michael and

I knew then it must never happen. I had to put in the three steps to stop this before it actually occurred:

- 1. Build a higher shelf in the bathroom on which I could hide Adventures in Card Play by Geza Ottlik and Hugh Kelsey (from which the above deal is unashamedly lifted).
- 2. Make sure my son never heard the name of Eric Kokish – could di tutti coaches.
  - 3. Wake up.

disease. Despite this handicap she continues to win at the top levels of women's bridge. Last year she won 883 points, good for 55th place on the Barry Crane Top 500 list.

Deas now has 23,712 points to Farell's 23,653. Actually Deas has more than that because she has won additional points since the February cycle. Her goal this year is to make it 25,000 points.

Deas credits a new medication she is taking for the recent improvement in her game. "It takes away the fatigue," she said. "I used to wake up in the morning and have no energy to do anything. Now I have a normal amount of energy all the time, and it feels good."

Lately she has been playing regularly with Steve Norvich of Chicago. Norvich is likely to win the 200-300 category in the Mini-McKenney race this year. He used to play bridge back in the Sixties, but he gave up the game to do other things for more than 30 years. Now he's returned to the game with enthusiasm. Lynn and he are playing at this tournament, and they also visit regionals on a regular basis.

Philadelphia story, Part 2

Bill Mannschreck grew up in the Kensington area of Philadelphia.

He recalls that it was commonplace for coworkers of someone who came to work late to ask, "Did you bring The Bulletin?"

Fifty years ago, there was a morning newspaper The Philadelphia Inquirer — and an evening publication – The Evening Bulletin (now defunct).

The question about bringing The Bulletin was meant to suggest that the person was late enough to have brought in the evening newspaper.

Vanderbilt correction

Two teams were omitted from the list of matches in the Vanderbilt Knockout Teams in the Tuesday edition of the Daily Bulletin.

Missing were teams captained by Grant Baze and Richard Pavlicek.

Baze, of San Diego, was playing with Terje Aa and Glenn Groetheim of Norway, Hugh Ross of Oakland CA and Michael Whitman of San Francisco.

Pavlicek, of Fort Lauderdale FL, played with Lee Rautenberg and Barnet Shenkin of Boca Raton FL, Martin Fleisher of New York City and Bob Jones of Hypoluxo FL.

Kantar. She was very interested in Kantar's theories. Krauss enjoyed talking about Kantar, and he promised to send Friedman two of Kantar's books.

One couple brought a deck of cards with them, sat down with Eric Greco and Geoff Hampson, and asked them to play cards. And that's what they did!

Zia was forced to talk about bridge with Elly Goodman of Elkins Park PA. "She doesn't want to talk about food and she says she's not interested in romance. So it's bridge." He gave her a few hints on how to remember the important small spots during the play of a hand.

Lyn Giuffrida and Erica Artus asked Grant Baze a lot of questions about conventions. When they brought up Drury, Baze told them that he had been a close friend of Doug Drury. "Doug used to play with Eric Murray," said Baze, "and he hated the problems that arose after a third-hand opening bid. Doug said why don't we bid two clubs to ask about partner's bid, and you can bid two diamonds if your third-hand opener is weak." Thus was the Drury convention born.

Ellen and Sidney Gordon of Philadelphia apparently had a problem with a yarborough in one of the events here, and they asked Eric Rodwell for some help. He gave them some hints on how to handle the bidding with a yarborough, and he warned them to be careful in the play – sometimes a card in the weak hand can make all the difference.

And that's the way it went. The program was so successful that it would be a good thing to repeat at future NABCs.

The all-star cast included Baze, Lisa and David Berkowitz, Shannon and Mike Cappelletti, Larry Cohen, Richard Freeman, Audrey Grant, Gail Greenberg, Eric Greco, Geoff Hampson, Zeke Jabbour, Krauss, Larsen, Robert and Jill Levin, Meltzer, Jill Meyers, Nick Nickell, Mike Passell, Rodwell, Debbie and Michael Rosenberg, Tobi Sokolow, JoAnna Stansby, Dorothy Truscott and Zia.

Kyle and Bonniej3

face to face with Brier in the One on One Brunch Tuesday morning, a chance for NABC participants to purchase a few minutes of time with a bridge

"I bought 15 minutes with an old friend," said Brier.

The two have been friends since they won the Teenyear Pairs at the 1965 Summer NABC in Chicago. "It was the one and only time we played together," said Brier, now general counsel for the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia.

Brier is the daughter of the late Barbara Brier, one of the leading players of her time. She and the late Waldemar von Zedtwitz won the World Mixed Pairs in 1970, and she won a couple of North American championships.

Bonnie didn't pursue bridge as diligently. In fact, she said, winning the Teenyear Pairs "was the highlight of my bridge career."

Larsen went on to a successful career as a bridge professional. He was on the winning team in the Bermuda Bowl in 2001 and he has a handful of North American championships.

The Teenyear pairing apparently arose from the fact that Larsen and Barbara Brier had played together on some teams. "But my mother," Bonnie pointed out, "was not eligible for the Teenyear Pairs."

Bonnie has one other memory from that game: "We were far and away the youngest pair in the event – and Kyle was far and away the best player."

Play bridge for fun – Goren

Charles Goren: "You should play bridge for fun. The instant you find yourself playing the game for any other reason, you should pack it up and go on to something else."

A girl's derisive laughter and a check for $10 were the launching pads for a career that made the name Charles Goren synonymous with contract bridge.

The Philadelphia-born Goren was nearing a master's degree in law at Montreal's McGill University in 1923 when the young hostess of a bridge party laughed at the way he played bridge.

He vowed to master the game. Upon his return to Philadelphia, he tackled Milton C. Work's classics on bridge – auction bridge, that is. He laid out hands and followed the play, card by card.

He checked his progress by entering a bridge contest run by a Philadelphia newspaper. Good marks came in the form of a check for $10. It was a game, he commented later, of the fellow who wouldn't go near the water until he was an expert swimmer.

And what a swimmer he became!

Goren was known to millions as "Mr. Bridge." They bought his books, attended his lectures, took lessons from his accredited teachers, "traveled with Goren" on bridge cruise ships, collected cards and game accessories impressed with his logo – and they read his columns and the articles he wrote for Sports Illustrated and McCall's and for bridge magazines throughout the world.

Goren won his first major events in 1933 – the Open Teams championships of the United States Bridge Association and the American Bridge League.

His first book, Winning Bridge Made Easy, was published in 1936. That same year, the Chicago Tribune and the New York Daily News chose to syndicate his daily newspaper column as a replacement for Ely Culbertson.

In 1937 an all-Philadelphia team of Sally Young, Charles Solomon, John Crawford and Goren won the national Open Teams-of-Four Championship (now the Reisinger) – and Goren captured his first McKenney Trophy. He won the trophy, awarded for the best masterpoint performance during a calendar year, seven more times. His eight wins is a record that still stands.

Soon he took over the top of the masterpoint winners' list and held that spot without interruption from 1944 to 1962.

His classic Contract Bridge Complete, published in 1942, is in its 12th edition. His Point Count Bidding, published in 1949, revolutionized bidding to the extent that Goren became a standard recognized worldwide.

Goren's books have sold more than 10 million copies and have been translated into a dozen languages.

Goren became a world champion in Bermuda in 1950, when the first of the Bermuda Bowl championships was staged. His teammates were Philadelphians John Crawford and Sidney Silodor plus George Rapee, Howard Schenken and Sam Stayman.

His show, Championship Bridge with Charles Goren, was the first successful bridge program on television. It ran from 1959 to 1964 and won an award as one of the best new television features.

Goren was named ACBL Honorary Member in 1959 and was one of the first three players elected to the Bridge Hall of Fame in 1964. In 1973 he was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of laws by McGill University.

Goren retired from the tournament scene in the late Sixties. He died in 1991.

Goren was profiled as "King of the Aces" by Time magazine in 1958 with this comment: "Charlie Goren has given bridge what it needs most: an outstanding authority, so that a bridge player from Pennsylvania can sit into a game in California and be right at home."

The magazine cited this "perfect example of Goren-Sobel precision bidding (from a U.S.-Ireland team match in Dublin in 1957):"

With North holding the trump suit and South the high-card strength, few partnerships would manage to arrive at a grand slam on this deal. The Irish partners playing the identical hands at the other table stopped at  $6 \, \Psi$ .

With two biddable suits and rosy game prospects, Goren opened 1. to give Sobel a chance to reply at the one level in case she held a weak hand. His second-round jump, displaying a good spade suit and extra high-card strength, committed the partnership to game, so Sobel could afford to bid 3. (rather than four), permitting inexpensive exploration for slam possibilities.

Goren signaled that his spades were rebiddable. Sobel's 4. showed the ace, hinted that she was thinking of slam if Goren held enough power. Goren then displayed support for hearts, and Sobel put in a Blackwood call for aces.

Goren saw that with Sobel's ♣A, the texture of his own club suit gave the combined hands extra strength that Blackwood signaling could not indicate. So instead of giving the 5♥ response to show two aces, he jumped to 6♣.

To Sobel, the Goren message was clear: I have the missing aces and the  $\P K$ , but I also have solid honors in clubs, so go ahead and bid seven if you've got the hearts.

She went ahead and bid seven. With Goren's club tricks available for discarding two diamonds and a spade, taking all the tricks was a cinch.

Goren's 64 bid was unorthodox but brilliant. It was just the sort of bid a bridge player can make with a partner like Helen Sobel – if the player himself happens to be Charles Goren, king of the aces.

National 49er Pairs

The National 49er Pairs, a two-session event limited to players with 0-50 masterpoints, will take place today as players compete for the Fifth Chair Trophy. The Fifth Chair Foundation is an international non-profit organization dedicated to promoting bridge on the internet and attracting new players to the game.

Masterpoint awards are red — except overall awards, which are paid at 95% red and 5% gold.

(1) Asked about 1NT, told it was strong (N/S's agreement according to their Convention Card)

The Facts: 2♠ doubled made two, +670 for N/S. The opening lead was the ♣A. The Director was called at the end of the play. At some point South said to North, "I thought I was showing the other two suits," at which point North said, "I finally realized that." (E/W thought these comments were made after the auction but before the lead; N/S thought they were made after dummy came down.)

The Director determined that South's explanation of 1NT as natural was in accord with N/S's agreement (their CC had nothing about sandwich notrumps listed) and in any case that East's own hand and the auction strongly suggested that South could not have a strong notrump. Thus, there had been no violation of Law 75B and no misinformation to E/W. The Director ruled that the table result would stand.

The Appeal: E/W appealed the Director's ruling and were the only players to attend the hearing. E/W were concerned that an agreement appeared to exist because of North's free 2♠ bid and his later statement that he figured his partner had spades. They believed that North's successful fielding of his partner's 2♠ bid indicated that some implicit agreement existed. If there was, then they believed that North owed them an explanation before he bid rather than after the hand.

The Committee Decision: Normally in cases of misinformation versus misbid, the alleged offenders bear a heavy burden to show that a call was a misbid. In this case the Director determined that sandwich notrumps were not on N/S's CC and concluded that there had been a misbid.

The Committee decided that in the face of North's comment and his free 2 bid, the absence of sandwich notrump from the CC was not sufficient to conclude that South had misbid. N/S might have been able to convince the Committee otherwise but were they were not present at the hearing.

Therefore, the Committee found that there had been misinformation. If E/W had been properly informed of this imputed agreement, they would have been very likely to have bid 4. Therefore, the Committee changed the contract to 4. by East.

If South either leads a spade or shifts to a spade when he gets in with the  $\Psi A$ , E/W would make five. The Committee deemed this sufficiently likely to meet the standard for assigning the result for  $4\Psi$  made five, +450 for E/W, to both pairs.

The Committee briefly considered whether South's pull of 1NT doubled to 2♦ was aided by unauthorized information from North's failure to Alert 1NT and his subsequent explanation of the bid as natural. They rejected that approach since they believed that passing 1NT doubled was not a logical alternative.

Dissenting Opinion (Ed Lazarus): E/W's appeal was based on their belief that before North bid 2. he should have Alerted that he now believed that his side had an agreement that 1NT was for takeout. However, North had already passed 1NT, properly reacting to his understanding that 1NT showed a strong balanced hand.

The laws do not require a player (in this case North) to notify the opponents if he infers from his own hand and the subsequent auction that he believes his partner might have misbid, mistakenly bidding 1NT to show a diamond-spade two-suiter when his agreement was that it was natural, as indicated on their CCs. (However, if North later decided that his explanation of 1NT as natural was in error and that his actual agreement was that 1NT showed the other two suits he was required to call the Director and correct the misexplanation.)

Furthermore, it should have been clear to East, holding 14 HCP (after his partner opened the bidding), that South was bidding on distribution. I would allow North to bid 2 and would have allowed the table result of 2 doubled made two, +670 for N/S, to stand.

Dissenting Opinion (Aaron Silverstein): After further consideration I believe that we made the wrong decision for several reasons. First, I think the timing of the Director call (at the end of the hand instead of when dummy appeared) suggested that E/W were not upset with the dummy but rather were upset with the result. Second, since North passed 1NT and only later bid 2. E/W should have known he did not have long spades, at which point the whole table should have known that there had been a misunderstanding. I think we probably should have forced N/S to play 1NT doubled. I do believe that the onus is on the side who has bid as though they have an agreement to prove that they don't.

In this case, however, 4♥ made five is the wrong decision. If we do not require N/S to play 1NT doubled we should allow the table result to stand.

104 Pairs

Tournament Chairman John Marks notes that when scores are determined across two or more sections, section top awards will be issued to the same number of places that there were sections. In other words, if an event is scored across three sections, the first three places in the section (North-South and East-West) will be entitled to section top

In stratified events, first place in Strats A and B will be entitled to section top prizes.

Goodwill message

Here's a reminder that the preferred way to summon a tournament director is to raise your hand and say, "Director, please." Also: keep your hand up so the director will know where to find you.

It's also a nice way to call a caddy.

Aileen Osofsky, Chairman National Goodwill Committee

New Life Masters

One day after helping her partner become a Life Master, Ilone Robinson of Owings Mills MD made the grade herself. She did it in the 0-750 Knockouts. Her partner, Ina Kronthal, became a Life Master the day before. Their teammates were Nita Girand and Shirley Liebhaber from California.

Lynette Koski of Pewaukee WI has reached the semifinals of the Nittany Lions Morning Knockouts, and that's enough for a gold card. She is assured of at least 3.09 masterpoints, and she needed only 2.37. Her partner is Stephen McDevitt of Medford MA, and their teammates are James Mesbur of Philadelphia and Gail Wix of Salt Lake City.

JoAnn Mauger earned enough points to become a Bronze Life Master. Her partner was Edwina Harrison.

Victor Bonini of Lavallette NJ made the grade in the 0-750 Knockout Teams. His partner was Tom Griffith of Toms River NJ, and their teammates were Marianne Handler of Holmes NJ and Renee
