Morse team wins Women's Swiss

The team captained by Jo Morse finished next-to-last in the qualifying round but came on strong in the final two rounds to win the NABC Women's Swiss Teams: (standing) Jo Morse, Karen McCallum and Rose Johnson-Meltzer; (seated) Hjordis Eythorsdottir and Lynn Baker. Runners-up, who finished last in the qualifying, were Susie Miller, Barbara Sion, Joyce Lillie and Suzy Burger.

New Life Masters

Kim Fanady of San Francisco became a Life Master on Wednesday in the Stratified Open Pairs, partnered by Steve Kipperman. She is president of San Francisco Unit 506.

Kevin George also was reported as a new Life Master, but no further information was offered.

Overheard in lobby

Two players were arguing vigorously and one said, "If I had known that, I wouldn't be a Flight B player."

Reno smashes record for Spring attendance

The news on attendance for Reno 1998 is great and "just missed." The grand total of 13,967 tables smashed the record for the Spring NABC by 159.5 tables. That record was set by the previous Reno NABC back in 1989. However, we fell short by 33 tables of the 14,000-table mark.

All in all, just about everyone agreed it was a great tournament, and many players were asking, "When are we coming back to Reno? Soon, I hope."

Edith first, George second in NABC Open Swiss

The team captained by Edith Rosenkranz won a narrow victory -- the margin: four-tenths of a Victory Point - over the team captained by Edith's husband, George, in the NABC Open Swiss Teams.

The winners weren't known until an appeals committee spent close to two hours deliberating on the question of whether a contract was set 800 or 1100. The committee decided that the table result of 1100 should stand, but a 3-IMP procedural penalty was assessed against Edith's team.

The final score was 117.3 VPs for Edith's team to 116.9 VPs for George's team. Playing with Edith were Ralph Cohen, Memphis; Bob Etter, Sacramento CA; Ron Smith, San Francisco, and Robert Morris, Houston.

George's team was Eddie Wold, Houston; Magnus Magnusson and Jon Baldursson, Iceland, and Berry Westra and Henri Leufkens, Holland. Baldursson won the Bermuda Bowl in Yokohama, Japan, in 1991; Westra and Leufkens won the Bermuda Bowl in Santiago, Chile, in 1993.

Both Edith and George left the tournament after the first final session to fly home to Mexico. Wold, a frequent partner of both, called the Rosenkranz residence to report on both teams' progress during the second final session. He called after the seventh round ("George is first and Edith is third") and after the final round ("A Rosenkranz is winning this event but I can't tell you which one because I don't know yet"). He called again after the committee decision.
